HONGKONG, MONDAY, JUNE 21, 1897.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

We most humbly apologise to the Public Works Department collectively and to every member of it individually for having thrown on it and them the undivided responsibility for the muddle and mud on the Racecourse where the posts and rails have been removed to clear the ground for the movement of the troops at the review to-morrow. We were informed, but too late to stop the press, on Saturday that the work on the course had been done by a Chinese contractor under the authority of the Jockey Club, who are the owners of the course and training track, and that the P.W.D. were in no way responsible. We suppose, however, that under the stringent provisions of the Building Ordinance plans were prepared and submitted for the Department's approval before the work was taken in hand, and a permit issued to the contractor. If this was so, then there is still some little responsibility attaching to them. Perhaps, on the other hand, in the absence of Mr. Toozee, that vigilant guardian of the letter of the law, no plans were submitted, and the work was done without their cognizance. Again we apologise and will make closer inquiry the next time.

Whether success or failure attend the strenuous efforts now being made by Mr. WOODHOUSE and his able assistant, Commander RUSSETT, to organise the procession of boats and the harbour illumination we can only say that they deserve to succeed if ever men did. They are giving to the work an amount of labour and energy that is deserving of ample acknowledgement, and are spending time and thought without stint. Every detail seems to be foreseen and provided for in their instructions and memoranda, and if only one half of the hints they have given are remembered and acted on, the show, weather permitting, ought to be most effective. Forty or fifty launches manoeuvring in the harbour in the daylight make no show. The same number of boats, lighted up, moving over the harbour in line ahead or line abreast after dark when the expanse of the harbour is lost in the obscurity of night, and little or nothing is visible but the lights, will be very much more imposing to the spectator. On the dark background of the water and the hills the effect will be very fairy-like and grand. We are afraid the illuminations on the shore will not amount to much; but all alike depend on the weather. As we write it seems to be clearing up and looking more settled; the barometer, however, is a little low, and a typhoon is reported near Luzon.

The Thanksgiving Services yesterday were a complete success. There was no rain to interfere with the processions or with the concourse of people at the various places of worship. At St. John's Cathedral the crowd was great, the service was dignified, the sermon was good and appropriate to the occasion, the music was well chosen and admirably rendered. His Excellency the Governor with his principal officers and Counsellors, the General with his Staff, the Commodore and a numerous following were present and added to the impressiveness of the occasion. At the Roman Catholic Cathedral Monsignor PIAZZOLI, Bishop and Vicar Apostolic, himself, officiated, attended by a very numerous body of the clergy. There were twenty priests in the sanctuary in addition to those assisting at the altar. The Bishop and officiating clerk were robed in cloth-of-gold. The altar was a mass of lights and flowers; the chancel was draped with crimson and white hangings and great vases adorned the railings and steps. The Church was well filled, the Consuls of Spain, France, Belgium and Austria, with the Vice-Consuls for France and Spain, all in full uniform, filled the front bench on the epistle side. Mr. FRANCIS, Q.C., with the officers from the Spanish cruiser were on the opposite side. Immediately in rear of these were the officers from the Portuguese gunboat Benjo and the British naval and military officers in attendance. The boys from St. Joseph's College, the French sisters from Wanchai, with their children, and the Italian Sisters with their numerous body of young people were seated in the aisles. The soldiers, sailors and Volunteers were accommodated in the nave. In addition there was a large general congregation. Fathers VIOANO and SPADA, with Father de MARIA, were in charge of the arrangements in the body of the Church, meeting all comers at the great doors and conducting them to their places. The function was most successful. The Bishop celebrated a pontifical low mass, with the Very Reverend Father MARTINEZ, of the Missions Estrangeres, as Deacon, and Father GUILLANO as sub-Deacon. Father GABRIEL officiating as assistant priest. The Chinese priests present were Father JOAQUIN, PAULUS, and ANDREA. Some twelve of the French priests from Pok-fu-lum were also present, together with Father SOARES and NOVELL. After mass there was Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament, the "TV DNM" being intoned by His Lordship immediately after the conclusion of the hymn "O Salutaris Hostia," the choir and the congregation taking it up and singing it in alternate verses. After the last hymn, the Laudate, the whole congregation, standing, sang "God save the Queen" with great heartiness.

Mr. FRANCIS, Q.C., as the only representative of the Jubilee Committee present, received the Consuls and foreign Officers in front of the Cathedral on their arrival, and after the conclusion of the service thanked them to the name and on behalf of the Committee for their presence.

At the Union and Wesleyan Churches there were full congregations and appropriate services.

We are sorry that our esteemed contemporary of the Daily Press has been unable to see the striking analogy between Hongkong and the Free Port recently thrown open at Copenhagen, to which we referred the other day. The Daily Press is as a rule conspicuously fair and reasonable, generally clear, never angry or excited, and always conspicuously polite, but with all these merits the Daily Press is slow—"not gleg at the up tak," we believe our evening contemporary would phrase it—and dull of apprehension and it often recurs to our minds that epithet so frequently applied to it by this journal in its unregenerate days was not so inapplicable as we have thought. The Daily Press is a little grandmotherly in its views. Now Hongkong, the whole island with its territorial waters, is the Free Port of Copenhagen. China, a part of which is geographically, is its Denmark, from which it is separated not by strong iron rails but by the surrounding waters and by the living barriers of the Imperial Maritime Customs blockade. The Philippines, Borneo, Coochin China, Tonquin, China itself, Korea, Russia, Japan, are the surrounding countries for which it is the centre of trade. The China seas are its Baltic. We, the merchants and traders residing in Hongkong, are the shareholders in the Company that owns and runs that port and we are the persons who seek a profit from its working. The Directors of the Company are our rulers, whose interests ought to be ours, and who ought to represent us and work for us, but who alas! do neither. We pay them but don't appoint them. They are appointed from outside and look for promotion and reward, not from us but from others. Their interests are elsewhere. This company, like that in Copenhagen, should expend every available cent to make this the finest port in the world, with the largest wharves, the finest godowns, the most powerful machinery for loading and unloading, with the most extensive docks and greatest building and repairing establishments in the East. This company, like the Copenhagen company, ought to seek to draw hither every ocean steamer that comes into this part of the world by offering her free every possible facility and so make this splendid port with its unexampled natural advantages the great distributing port of the East. Every steamer from Europe, Australia, India, and America should come here and start from here as a terminus, and smaller lines should collect and distribute from Japan to Singapore. The Copenhagen Company does all this in its small way to get the mere profits on the handling of the goods by way of storage. We here would get the profits on the storage, on the sale and purchase, and on the distribution of the goods, on the repairs of the ships, on the transaction of their business, on the financing of all the vast business to be transacted. We get a good deal now but we could and ought to do more and get a great deal more. Ships and steamers in increasing numbers begin to pass this port for Shanghai, Vladivostok, Kobe and Yokohama direct. This should not be so. We can afford, and the Copenhagen Company cannot, to make this port an absolutely free port to make no charges whatever, however small, and to do more than we have ever yet done to improve the port and its appliances, and it will pay us well to do it. Mr. CHATER, can you, who have done so much, do nothing towards the attainment of this great end?

We published a note the other day on the subject of the West River traffic. We noted then that, in accordance with the latest information at our disposal, no Chinese-owned cargo had up to that date been shipped in any European bottom on the river, either up or down. We hear to-day that the same state of things prevails and that no Chinese are shipping by any of the river steamers, but that all Chinese-owned cargo is going in Chinese craft. The Steamboat Company, Messrs. JARDINE, MATHESON & Co. and BUTTERFIELD & SWIRE all have had the same experience. At first the idea was that the Chinese were simply waiting for an official proclamation giving them leave to ship by foreign steamers, and declaring the river open for general trade alike to Chinese and to foreigners. Then it appears that the difficulty was not so much in the absence of a Proclamation as in the certainty that native goods going from Canton, say, to Wuchow, in a river steamer would have to pass through the foreign Customs and pay full duties there, and have also to pay full duties on all other Chinese transit and terminal charges, instead of shipping through exclusively Chinese hands for much less in the shape of charges, squarages, etc. It was the old story of differential duties. The Chinese merchant, left to deal with his own people, by the aid of a little judicious bribery passes his goods to Wuchow at a diminished weight, or at short measure or for lower rates; in fact at a figure, all things considered, that shows a greater profit on transit by Chinese junk than in European steamers, and they are therefore so sent. It ought further to be taken into consideration that the Chinese junk owners are naturally trying their best, by offering greater facilities and reducing their charges, to keep the traffic in their own hands, and they are also using all the influence they possess, with officials of all ranks in Canton and along the river, and that influence is great—throw every obstacle in the way of the foreigner. The mandarins have no easy task. They have their treasures to consider. All duties on goods travelling by foreign steamers pass out of the provincial or local chest to the Imperial coffers. They have their private interests to safeguard. There are no pickings if there is nothing to pick from. They have their prestige to keep up and their people to conciliate and keep quiet. The traffic questions on the river are very numerous, the interests concerned are as numerous and conflicting, and the difficulties will take a long time to unravel and arrange. It will not be the work of a day. But the first thing to do is to get at the facts. Until these are known argument is of little avail. It is bound to go astray. Representations to those in authority will avail less. Their statements will be questioned and upset. We know only the one fact that Chinese cargo does not yet find its way to our steamers. Why it does not, we can only guess.

A proclamation was published at Wuchow about ten days ago by the Lekin Office which discloses one other fact to us however. We publish a translation of it in another column. According to it, both foreign and native goods not covered by Transit Pass, and whether inward or outward bound, have to pay Lekin at Wuchow, and to enforce this, so far at least as outward cargo is concerned, the Imperial Maritime Customs office at Wuchow is blocked on both sides by Likin guard-boats, and every boat leaving it with cargo for a foreign steamer is boarded and forced to proceed to the Lekin office. How will the Imperial Maritime Customs stand this? Will they allow their clearance and permit to ship to be disregarded and set aside by the farmers of the Lekin? We hope not. We invite communications on the subject of the duties on the West River and the management of the traffic generally. It is a difficult question.

It was intended that each local subscriber should receive a copy of the portrait and it is thought possible that some enterprising domestic may have "forgotten" to hand the pictures to their employers.

FIVE flower-boats and ten small boats, anchored off Kowloon, Canton were captured by the force of a strong current, which set in suddenly at midnight on the 17th inst. Seven bodies—two those of prostitutes and five those of children—were recovered afterwards, and two prostitutes were missing. It is said that the missing women were saved by the people in the neighbouring boats and have been sold to other brothels.

MR. SAM MARKS announces that, owing to a severe attack of illness, from which he has not yet recovered, he apologises to his numerous patrons for the disappointment they must have felt on Saturday, the 19th inst., when the projected trip round the Island was postponed, without his being able to notify the ticket-holders to that effect. He will upon his recovery renew the project, notice of which will be duly published in the daily papers.

ALWAYS up-to-date, Host Osborne of the Bay View Hotel has arranged to give a grand banquet on his spacious lawn and in the grand pavilion at Bay View at 6.30 to-morrow. The hour is fixed at 6.30 to enable the guests to get to town in time for the illuminations, and in order that all shall remember the repeat the grand host has apparently made up his mind to have a "record" menu served in "record" time and in "record" style.

EVEN at Yau-ma-tei preparations are in progress for a fitting celebration of to-morrow. Triumphant arches have been erected in several of the streets and a monster match has been built as a theatre. This latter structure, with great forelight, has been erected over the water, and forelight, the Prays, so that it not only occupies a central and convenient position, but runs less risk from fire owing to the abundant supply of water at hand for the small manual fire-engine which is housed in a temporary structure alongside the theatre to be handy in case of emergency.

In reply to the letter signed "A Chinese Subscriber," which appeared in our issue of Saturday last, complaining of the non-receipt of tickets for the Review and Gymkhana, we are requested by the Honorary Secretary of the Jubilee Committee to state that two thousand tickets have been or are being issued for Europeans and Chinese; one thousand to each; and that matched accommodation has been arranged for two thousand persons. Applications for tickets by Chinese should be addressed to Mr. Fung Wa Ch'ung, in whose hands have been placed all the invitations for Chinese subscribers.

THE Chinese residents began their jubilation in earnest to-day. In the western part of the city the air was filled with Chinese music, and at the puppet show stands in Bonham Street immense crowds gathered to witness the performance, which all had the usual noisy orchestral accompaniments. Some of the Chinese arches are remarkable for their wealth of oriental splendour. In some instances they tower over three storey buildings, and the lamps and glass pendants are fine specimens of Eastern decoration. The musicians, who are to play on the bases of the arches, were busily rehearsing to-day and in places vehicular traffic was greatly impeded by the crowd.

AT the Harbour Office to-day before Comdr. R. Murray Rumsey, R.N., 16 Malay seamen belonging to the American ship Icy were charged with wilful disobedience of lawful commands. Mr. J. Hastings appeared for the prosecution. Charles Wall, the master of the vessel, said that he engaged the men at Singapore for a six months voyage. The vessel arrived here on May 11th, and on June 16th they complained about the quality of their rice. Witness spoke to Mr. Dumbart, the owner, about it and he said it was not the rice he had ordered. It was then sent ashore and other rice was sent off. The men refused it and went ashore without leave on the 17th and 18th June, saying they wanted to see the Harbour Master. They had not been on the bases of the arches and had to be engaged. The seaman (one of the defendants) said they had been to the American Consul about the food and were told they were British subjects and would have to go to the Harbour Master. The seaman also said that they were refused fresh water on board and that the captain had threatened to break his neck. He told the captain that the men could not work on the rice supplied to them. They came ashore on the captain giving them permission and as the American Consul would do nothing they remained ashore. Others of the men said they were refused water after having been ashore on the 18th and so they remained ashore. It was stated by a number of the men that when they complained of the food the captain told them to go and complain where they liked. The rice was described as being full of sand and paddy. Comdr. Rumsey said their conduct had amounted to refusal of duty and he had nothing to do with the food on American ship. The Consul had asked him to investigate the case. The defendants were sentenced to 28 hours imprisonment and to be released on the order of the captain. In reply to Mr. Hastings Comdr. Rumsey said he had no power to make an order regarding costs.

IN Saturday's Gazette are published regulations with regard to vessels anchoring near the lines of telegraph cables. No ship, junk, or vessel of any description is to anchor within the indicated areas; provided that junks and other native craft employed at the North Point Petroleum Depot may anchor to the westward of a line drawn from the Eastern dolphin (300 feet from the pier) to the Eastern portions of the building on M. L. 277.

THE Chief Secretary of New South Wales has approved of the full dress for infantry regiments being changed from brown to scarlet, the change to be made gradually as the funds admit, but the new full dress is not to be worn till each regimental unit has been supplied throughout. Similarly, approval has been received for the adoption of gold lace, brass buttons, and yellow braid for the whole of the partially-painted regiments and corps instead of silver lace, white metal buttons, and white braid. Silver lace, &c., will therefore be specially retained by the purely volunteer forces. With the blue patrol jacket infantry officers will wear blue trousers with scarlet welt.

AT about five o'clock on the 19th instant a steam-launch belonging to the German flag ship Kaiser was lying at the P. and J. Jetty, Shanghai, when one of the crew, in attempting to reach the pontoon with a boat-hook, slipped and fell into the intervening space of water, his head striking against the rudder of a cargo-boat as he fell. He sank immediately. The body was dragged for soon afterwards, and was recovered later in the evening, but owing to the refusal of sampanmen to take it on their boat it was left on the pontoon until removed by a party of men from the Kaiser. On the 14th the body was identified as the morgue by officers from the Kaiser and was removed and interned at the Secretary in the afternoon, parties from the Kaiser and Cormoran assisting at the obsequies.

THE trial of Dr. Carl Peters, the most enterprising spirit among the advocates of a forward Colonial policy in Germany, has (says Panama News) fully borne out the charges levelled for years past at German Colonial methods, and the circumstances have not tended to improve the temper of the German Press towards England. Dr. Peters was tried before the Disciplinary Court in Berlin for shocking outrages on the natives with whom he came in contact and for gross abuse of his position as Imperial Commissioner. It is little short of amazing, even to those who have kept an eye on the record of German misdeeds in Africa, that officials of an enlightened and civilised nation like Germany should be able to produce no better defence than that which Dr. Peters put forward. Humane men do not treat animals as Dr. Peters treated helpless native women who had the misfortune to come within the pale of his authority. The Disciplinary Court had no difficulty in getting at the truth, and Dr. Peters has been mildly punished by being dismissed from his official position and condemned to pay the costs of the inquiry. Under the guidance of such a man it is easy to see how German Colonies should be run, and how, to obey the dictates of humanity or to observe treaty obligations, would, without compulsion, embark on courses which have made the name of the Germans a byword in Africa. Dr. Peters' ambition to forestall Great Britain in the parts of the Dark Continent was legitimate, but Colonial rivalry with England will never succeed on the indecent lines he adopted.

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

The Queen passed by, and Jones boomed, And waved his hat with frantic glee. He'd let his windows and he'd made A Hundred by the Jubilee.

But I heard and I jammed among the crowd His tenant, Brown, there chanced to be; Who clenched his fists and growled aloud, And did not cheer the Jubilee. Now loyal Jones was stupefied, This attitude of Brown to see; And so across the crowd he cried, "Brown! don't you like the Jubilee?" The man addressed turned fiercely round. "No—don't you turn me out," said he, "To let me room for Fifty Pound, I say 'Confound the Jubilee!'"

MORAL.
Though all are loyal and love their Queen,
There's less V.B. than L.S.D.
About some people's views, I mean,
Concerning this same Jubilee.

A CHINESEMAN who says he lives at Serapoong, says, says the Straits Times of the 3rd inst., yesterday afternoon, taken to the Pauper Hospital, and from there to the General Hospital, suffering from a number of grievous wounds on the arms. The wounds had been inflicted some days previously, and, having been unattended to, were in a shocking state of putrefaction. To Inspector Ballard he stated that, on the 17th of last month, he and his brother went away in a big sampan to trade some of the island, taking with them bread, provisions, and money, in exchange for which they desired to get guppies and rattans. On the 28th, they were at an island called Serapoong, about twenty hours from Singapore in a colch. A boat containing seven Malays came alongside, and three came aboard to sell eight cattle of gulls. While aboard, the Malays tried to steal the Chinese money. Both the men resisted the attempt, whereupon the Malays attacked the brother of the man in hospital with knives and cut his right hand clean off, stabbed him in the abdomen, and threw him into the sea, and he was drowned. The other Chinese man they also attacked with knives, and, after cutting him severely in the arms, threw him also into the sea. He was able, however, to swim away, and get ashore. Ultimately, he returned to Singapore, and, according to his statement, was taken to the Ellenborough Market, and from there to the Clyde Terrace Market, from whence his cousin conveyed him to the Pauper Hospital after a delay of five days in Singapore. The Police are now investigating the story, but they are inclined to treat it with considerable suspicion.

THE WEST RIVER TRADE.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE WUCHOW LIKIN OFFICE.

Wuchow being now an open port with a foreign Custom House, it is possible that the various Leikin Regulations are not known to all. They are therefore now set forth below in accordance with treaty so as to enable the public to act in obedience thereto.

1.—Both foreign goods not covered by inward transit pass and native goods, if imported by foreign vessels, or, after being transhipped into cargo boats and taken to the Foreign Customs to pay duty, to proceed direct to the Leikin station for registration and the regular examination and levy of Leikin. Such goods may not be landed, under pain of punishment, unless provided with a certificate that Leikin has been paid.

2.—Native goods not under outward transit pass, if exported by foreign vessels, are, before being shipped on board the foreign vessel, to be taken in cargo boats to the Leikin station for registration and the regular examination and levy of Leikin. Such goods may not be shipped, under pain of punishment, unless provided with a certificate that Leikin has been paid.

3.—In order to prevent smuggling and evasion of payment, one of the guard-boats will be sent daily in rotation to keep watch above and below the Foreign Customs so as to be at hand to examine the goods on cargo boats and see whether or not they have certificates that they have paid Leikin.

4.—A notice on which Leikin is payable and which have evaded payment, will, on discovery, be confiscated and prosecution will be instituted against the parties indicated by the marks thereon.

5.—If a merchant is unable to appear in person at the station and settle up the Leikin payable, he shall make the Leikin of the cargo boat responsible for the payment on his behalf.

6.—Native vessels towed by steam vessels come under the cognizance of the Leikin station and undergo the regular examination and levy of Leikin.

WRECK OF A BRITISH BARQUE.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF THE CREW.

THEY ARRIVE IN SINGAPORE.

Singapore, June 11th.
There arrived in Singapore this morning the Dutch steamer Reynier, of Batavia, which brought from an island in the Gaspar Straits the shipwrecked crew of the British barque Armore, of Glasgow. The Armore, an iron vessel of 1,100 tons, left Bangkok on the 3rd of May last, with a cargo of rice for Rio Janeiro, and six crew and a reef in the Gaspar Straits on the 19th of May. The vessel had to be beached on a neighbouring island, and the crew, none of whom were lost, were taken on board the Reynier on the 7th inst., and brought on to Singapore.

In conversation with a representative of the Straits Times, Captain White, the master of the lost vessel, told the story of the disaster. The Armore, as already stated, left Bangkok on the 3rd ult., for Rio, via the Ando Straits. All went well until about seven o'clock on the morning of the 19th. The weather was then very foggy, the sea was high, and heavy rain was falling, almost entirely obscuring the vision.

At a quarter past seven, in the midst of what was apparently an open sea, the vessel struck with great force upon a hidden reef. The concussion was alarming, and the captain, on going below, found that the rocks had pierced the hull of the vessel, causing a hole through which the water entered at a perilous rate. Fortunately, the injuries were not such as to occasion immediate danger. The vessel remained stuck upon the reef, and all hands worked at the pumps. All day long the pumping continued, and the crew were assisted for some time by a number of natives, who put off from an island called Pulau Leat. But the water was unable to sustain the vessel as the weather became much worse, making their return journey in their small boats a matter of considerable danger. At about eight o'clock in the evening, the vessel floated clear of the reef, but the master decided, after a consultation with the crew, to remain in the vicinity of the reef all night, in the hope of halting a passing ship, or otherwise to decide what else should be done. No vessel was sighted during the night, and at daybreak the captain again called the crew together, pointed out that the water was getting on them perceptibly, and announced his intention to beach the vessel at the nearest and most suitable point. At this time, there was a large quantity of water in the hold, and it was evident the crew, fatigued as they were by a day and a night of continuous pumping, could not hope to keep the ship above water during the time that would elapse before the nearest port could be reached. Captain White then steered for the island of Pulau Sentor, and ran the ship ashore at the most suitable spot he could find. But the shore was fringed with a wide field of mangrove, and it was quite impossible to land. Here, the crew remained until the 21st and then made to the ship's boats for the island of Pulau Lepar, several miles away. Going backwards and forwards, the ship's boats were able to save a large portion of the stores, as well as twelve hundred bags of rice. Landing on the island, the shipwrecked men were hospitably treated by the natives, who did all that they could to make them comfortable. But they performed a grudging service to this. They took a letter from Captain White to the island of Mentoe, where there is a Dutch Resident, with the result that, on the 20th of May, the steamship Reynier called at Lepar with orders to render any immediate assistance that might be required. Fortunately the crew had ample provisions, but the Reynier being on mail duties, could not undertake to bring them to Singapore. Captain White, however, went on to Batavia in the vessel, and there he was treated with kindness and consideration by the Dutch authorities. The steamship Reynier was shortly going out on "lightship" duties; under contract with the Government, and her captain was instructed to call at Lepar, and to take the crew of the Armore to Singapore. Previous to his departure for Batavia, the captain had remained on board the wrecked vessel in a little tent rigged up on the forecastle. This was the only dry part of the ship at high tide. The Reynier left Lepar on the morning of the 8th inst., and the crew and captain arrived here this morning all well.

Captain White has been much impressed by the kindness of the Dutch authorities, and the consideration extended to him and his men by the

WHAT VITALITY MEANS.

Vitality is your measure of force, or power. Thin babies and feeble old persons have little of it. When the system is unable to assimilate the right kind of food, vitality becomes low.

Scott's Emulsion

Is above all other remedies in giving vitality. It makes no difference whether the emaciated person is in infancy or in old age. Whenever food fails to nourish, Scott's Emulsion will be found the most effective remedy for overcoming emaciated tendencies. All chemists.

THE magnificent Two-screw Steamships of this Line pass through the famous INLAND SEA OF JAPAN, and usually make the voyage YOKOHAMA TO VANCOUVER (B.C.) in 12 DAYS, saving THREE DAYS to a WEEK in the Trans-Pacific Journey (avoiding the rough passages generally experienced in the latitudes further South) and make connection at Vancouver with the PALATIAL TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRAINS OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY, which leave daily, and cross the Continent FROM THE PACIFIC TO THE ATLANTIC WITHOUT CHANGE. Close connection is made at Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, New York and Boston with all Trans-Atlantic Lines, which passengers to Great Britain and the Continent are given choice of.

Passengers Booked through to all principal points and AROUND THE WORLD. Return tickets to various points at reduced rates. Good for 4, 6, 9 and 12 months.

SPECIAL RATES (First-class only) granted to Missionaries, Members of the Naval, Military, Diplomatic and Civil Services, and to European Officials in the Service of China and Japan Governments.

The attractive features of this Company's route embrace its PALATIAL STEAMSHIPS (second to none in the World), the LUXURANCE OF ITS TRANS-CONTINENTAL TRAINS (the Company having received the highest award for same at recent Chicago World's Exhibition), and the diversity of MAGNIFICENT MOUNTAIN AND LAKE SCENERY through which the Railway passes.

THE DINING CARS AND MOUNTAIN HOTELS of this route are owned and operated by the Company, and their appointments and Cuisine are unequalled.
